Alternative Loans

Private Education Loans, also known as Alternative Education Loans, help bridge the gap between the actual cost of your education and the limited amount the government allows you to borrow in its loan programs. Private loans are offered by private lenders and are not part of any federal financial aid program. We encourage students and their parents to utilize their federal loan eligibility before considering additional funding through private/alternative programs.

Students may compare and research various private student loan programs available by going to <http://www.finaid.org/loans> and clicking on Private Student Loans. Olivet does not recommend or endorse any private student loan programs. Students must apply through the lender of their choice in order to obtain a private student loan.

The effective date of any withdrawal or course drop for refund of federal student financial aid refund/repayment calculation purposes is the date the student last attended class. Student financial aid will be refunded to federal programs in the following order: Federal Unsubsidized Direct Loan and Federal Subsidized Direct Loan.

IV. Collection Policy

- b. Once a student has been administratively withdrawn from his/her program, he/she will be given at least thirty days to send the payment to the Student Accounts Office. If the student fails to pay off his/her account by this time, his/her account will be turned over to the collection agency.

V. DROP-IN Courses, etc.

Students are locked into their cohort rate for their core program coursework. When it becomes necessary for a student to take a course outside of their program (ie. fulfilling general education requirements or program prerequisites), they will be charged the applicable course rate. For students who withdraw from a program and enroll in a different cohort at a later date, new tuition rates may apply.
